Advance Transit now offers free Travel Training services to Upper Valley residents who want more mobility in their day-to-day lives.

Many people, including seniors, feel uncomfortable using transit to get around. There are unknowns - where to get on, get off, pick-up times, transfers and accessibility. To help Upper Valley residents be able to utilize Advance Transit’s free system, our Travel Trainer is holding free informational meetings at local senior centers, residence centers, and public venues. We will introduce travel training, explain how it works and how it can increase mobility. We also cover the basics of the local Advance Transit bus system, and answer questions.

Once comfortable with transit basics, we invite you to contact us to work one-on-one with our Travel Trainer. You’ll learn how to get from a bus stop of your choice to your destination and back, and how to read the Advance Transit time table.

When ready we will meet you at a local stop or public venue to ride the routes we’ve planned and help you feel at ease. The Trainer stays with the trainee at all times during the training until they return to the starting point. If you would like a friend to join us, please feel free to invite them.

If you are interested in having a Travel Trainer call you or come to your location, please contact us to set up a time to meet.

We would love to see people have more mobility and freedom in their daily lives. Utilizing Advance Transit’s free weekday service is the answer in the Upper Valley.

Please see our contact information on the back.

We look forward to meeting you on:
